

April 25 and 26, 2024 – RENNES (France)

Annual meeting for video game professionals, ADDON offers a rich and diversified technical program focused on video game production.

This year, it will be the 8th edition. The programme is composed of 25 conferences, international b2b meetings and for the first time this year 4 masterclass. ADDON is still working on its internationalisation so 5 conferences and 1 masterclass will be in English. Nevertheless, all the participants speak English and you can meet them during b2b meetings.

This event is made by game devs, for game devs. That means all the topics discussed during ADDON are closely related to video game production, so that each participant can increase his or her skills on different topics:

What is the target audience?

Managers and employees of video game development studios: artists, developers, game designers, sound designers, etc. But also, all professionals who gravitate, through their profession, around the creation of video games.

Bretagne Compétitivité, member of Enterprise Europe Network organises the b2b meetings on ADDON in partnership with Atlangames.
